

Floor Plans

The road to fall's new tile and hardwood is paved with bold sizes and dramatic patterns.

BY AMANDA ROSS

WOOD IT BE SO?

No trees were harmed in the making of these wood-floor doppelgängers: EsSENze Rare Extreme porcelain tiles by eco-friendly Graniti Fiandre [1]. Price on request. granitifandre.com

IT'S A DRAW

These Variations 1 concrete tiles by Andy Fleishman for Ann Sacks [2] owe their industrial chic to their intricately patterned grout lines. From $43 per square foot. annsacks.com

BELT IT OUT

Waist not, want not: these handmade floor tiles by Ting London [3] are crafted from vintage leather belts, so no two are ever the same. From $105 per square foot. tinglondon.com

CLEAR CUT

No use crying over spilt milk: the Stratus Toss-Spill floor tiles by Vancouver's Interstyle [4] feature decorative prints fused on custom glass for that messy-but-refined look. From $64 per square foot. interstyle.ca

FASHION FORWARD

You'll be tempted to strut the kitchen catwalk (albeit in your housecoat) with these new honed Armani limestone tiles [5] in deep brown. 12 by 24 inches, price on request. iconstonetile.com

PLANKS FOR THE MEMORIES

There's only good times to be made on Mirage's new Sweet Memories series [6] 6½-inch-wide boards in handcrafted oak and aged maple. From $13 per square foot. miragefloors.com
See SOURCES

INTERSTYLE CERAMIC + GLASS LTD